Day Two: God Creates the Waters and the Sky

Based on Genesis 1:6-8
and Genesis 6, 7, 8

God said,
“Let there be a space that separates the water into two parts.”

So God made the space and separated the waters. Some water was above the space and some was below. God named the space "Sky."

And there was evening and there was morning, the second day.

Many years after God created the world, God was sad and angry because people were evil to one another and to all of creation. God was going to send a flood of waters on the earth to destroy everything that was evil.

But God saw that there was a good man named Noah. God told Noah to build an ark.

God promised to save Noah's family and 7 pairs of every kind of bird and animal and creeping thing on the earth that took shelter from the flood on the ark.

Once they were all on the ark, it rained for 40 days and 40 nights. The flood waters came and the ark rose high above the earth.

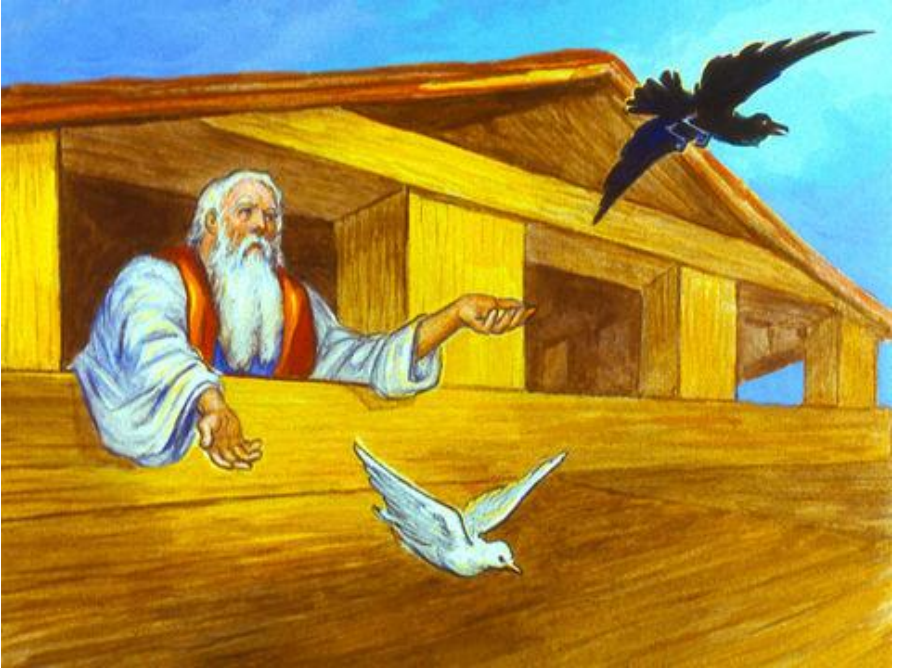

The waters swelled for 150 days and then God made the wind blow over the earth.

The flood waters went away and Noah's ark came to rest on a mountaintop.

Noah sent out birds, a raven and then a dove, to see if it was safe to leave the ark.

The dove came back with an olive branch showing that the flood was over.

God told Noah to leave the ark and to let the animals roam over the earth. Noah promised to always listen to God.

God promised to never again send a flood to destroy the earth. As a sign of that promise, God put a rainbow in the sky.
